

NW Ethnicity & Cultural Diversity Network

Developing good practice in Learning Disability services when working with people from minority communities

2nd November 09 or 18th February 2010

9.30am - 4.00pm

Venue: NWTDT Training Room, Suite 4, TMC Building, The Globe Centre, Accrington, BB5 0RE

Target Audience

The event will benefit any professionals involved in the commissioning and delivery of services to individuals with learning disabilities and their families across health, education, social care and the voluntary sector.

The notion of taking responsibility for the needs of Black and Minority Ethnic communities (BME) should be everybody's business.

Overview

This event is aimed at those who have already started to think about improving services for people from minority communities, this will concentrate on making change happen through good leadership.

People from ethnic minorities are still not getting as good a service as other people.

This day will look at:

- Overview of the situation
 - Good practice
 - New legislation
 - Current policies supporting Black and Minority Ethnic people with Learning Disabilities.
- Understand how the new legislation impacts on this work.
- Be aware of new groups of people who may require support and how to provide that.
- Know how to use the new legislation with BME communities.
- Know how to be an agent for change and how to sustain change.
- New communities - who are they, their need for services.
 - Traveller communities - what is the experience.
- Reaching communities.
- Letting people know about services and helping engage in service development.
- Input from leaders who have made significant changes to service delivery.
- The impact of BME 3rd sector organisations and how to work well with them.
- Making a plan and monitoring change.
